The "Wheeling" Gunboat Party Returns Last Evening.

THE SUNNY SLOPE SHOWERED

Its Hospitality Upon the Pilgrims, who are Loud in Their Praises of the Treatment Accorded Them-The Pluck of Wheeling Admired by Westerners, and Incidentally West Virginia Gots Great Advertisement-An Enjoyable Jaunt.

Shortly after 6 o'clock last evening there pulled into the Baltimore & Ohio depot at Water street, amid the cheers of the crowds lining the platform, the private coaches containing the "Wheeling" gunboat party, which was returning from its jaunt to the sunny slope, made just four weeks ago. The train had scarcely slackened before the platform evolved into an animated scene of friendly greetings and handshakings.

The pligrims looked sun-bronzed and healthy, and their appearance bespoke, the generous treatment accorded them on their trip. White slouch hats on many of the male members of the party added to the western atmosphere, and expansion of girth was plainly evident on Mayor Butts and the others inclined to obesity. Captain Dovener looked as though he had just completed a sea voyage, and Sheriff Richards had lost his usual thoughtful air. The ladies, as well, were the pictures of blooming health, and the anxious friends and relatives awaiting the party's arrival for once at least, didn't ask: "Well, how have you been?" ive you been?"
As is well known, the party journeyed

As is well known, the party journeyed to San Francisco to present to the gunbat "Wheeling," in behalf of the city of Wheeling, services of china and glassware, and punch bowl to the trim little cruiser, in honor of its being named after the Nail City. Through the efforts of Congressman Dowener transportation was secured, and to him are accredited many of the pleasant features of the trip, the like of which has seldom been the good fortune of the citizens of any city to enjoy. It has been a constant round of enjoyment, especially so after reaching the Golden Gate, and the trip through California after the presentation.

The coast country was new to Wheel ingites; in fact it was a revelation. The fruitful California and its delightful clifruitful California and its delightful cli-mate were amazing—the trip was taken advantage of by the Californians to ad-vertise their state, and the West Virgin-ians didn't fall to do likewise. The com-ing of the party was heralded far and wide in California, and the hospitality of every town along the railroads traversed through the state was lavished in every way possible. West Virginia was there and no mestake.

way possible. West Virginia was there and no mistake.
While in San Francisco, it was a former West Virginian who photographed the party in the gunboat on the bay, and a former employe of the Riverside steel works was the engineer in the boat that bore them out to Mare Island and return.

It was their pleasure also to vigit Liqui. It was their pleasure also to visit Licu-tenant Braunesreuther, wife and child The Heutenant, who is a former instructenant Braunesreuther, wife and child. The Beutenant, who is a former instructor of military tactics at the Linsly Institute, is now on duty there in the navy yards. Everywhere it was the same, a former West Virginian bobbing up serenely on all important occasions.

After the sights had been done in San Francisco, the homeward trip began. The route lay through California and tha southwestern states, but it was in touring California that the travelers veritably revelled in the fat of the land. They were feasted and entertained along the route. At certain towns the citizens met them, and providing carriages drove them around the country through the orange groves and vineyards, and in addition banqueting them at their famous hotels. Where the stop admitted of but a few minutes again they were laden with fruit and wines by the generous natives.

with fruit and wines by the generous havives.

Addresses also figured in the itinerary. The Californian extolled the virtues of his state to the West Virginians, and Congressman Dovener, with characteristic point and eloquence, and others of the party, extolled the virtues of West Virginia to the Californians. The newspapers were full of the trip, and crowds waited for the train at every station. The "Frisco" people, and in fact, all towns of the west held their breath in admiration of the party that fourneyed almost from ocean to ocean in honor of admiration of the party that joint sea almost from ocean to ocean in honor of one of Uncle Sam's cruisers. There was in the navy many boats named after states of the Unton and some large cities, but no such enthusiastic demonstration had ever been made before, and as a "Frisco" admirer expressed it, "We take off our hats and cheer for Wheel-take off our hats and cheer for Wheeling."

It is a source of pride to all citizens that Wheeling cut such a figure, and Wheeling will long be a synonym for pluck along the coast. The city and the state received splendid advertisement, while the thanks of the party will always be due to those who tendered such kind treatment. The courtesy of the railroad officials who accompanied them, was never excelled, and memories of the hospitality showered upon them by the Californians will also linger long. And the members of the party will never efface from their memories the many kindnesses of Congressman Dovener.

Where was so much pleasure was also profit, and the experiences gained by the Where was so much pleasure was also profit, and the experiences gained by the trip will be fruitful to the observant members. Mayor Butts, who paid particular attention to street paving, etc., will likely have much information shed on local muncipal affairs. He, however, says Wheeling is the best for a poor man, and stated last evening that Callfornia would be better for a man possessed of more of this world's goods. Another satisfactory feature is that throughout the journey all the party kept perfect health, and good health and jovial spirits were the order of the day from the time they said au revoir to the Ohio river until home again last night. As has already been published, the party came home by the southern route, varying the original itherary long enough to make a short tour into Mexico, and everywhere the ovations and o, and everywhere the ovations and ourtesies received were similar to nose experienced in California. During those experienced in California. During the trip the party travelled about 8,000 miles, through twenty-two states and territories and over several railroad systems. All the tourists are enthusistic over the treatment received from the railway officials, and the especial courtesies accorded them. In every instance a railroad official accompanied the party, looking after its comfort and pleasure.

The "Wheeling" was Dry-SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22 -Two of the sailors of the gunboat "Wheeling" attempted to swim ashore from their ship, a distance of a mile to get a schooner of beer. They were picked up by a boatmen when they had covered about half of the distance and brought to land.

They then slaked their thirst and quietly awaited an opportunity to get back to their vessel. They had been stowing coal and were dry.

AMUSEMENTS.

The trained animal exhibition with Barnum & Batley Greatest Show on Earth this season is simply amazing. When this now perfect new feature was presented in New York the Daily Sun said it was "the sublime culmination of harmony." Seventy thoroughtion of harmony." Seventy thoroughbred horses are seen at one time, all engaged in the performance of difficult feats, tricks, drill or maneuver, and the whole company are witnessed in the execution of these things at once. Four concentrical rings are placed within one of the regular circus rings, and it is here the horses go through their series of performances. This very wonderful performance was thought by many to be impossible, but by perseverance, aided by novel methods, perfect subjects has resulted, so that now for the first time can be seen this astounding equine display. This is without doubt, the most ambitious as well as the most meritorious and successful effort in the line of trained animal exhibition the eyes of man ever gazed upon. It is, however, but one of many new and extraordinary attractions of this season's show, for there are in addition an exceedingly interesting exhibition; the giant gorilla, the famous Johanna; enquestrian tournament, with high jumping and long distance leaping horses, a May-pole dance on horseback, a fox hunters' meet, and daring feats of horsemanship. A thousand people are employed, among whom are three hundred performers, sixteen champion male and female bareback riders—the best of all countries—are seen in strikingly novel champion bareback specialties. They will all be here on Friday of this week, with the street parade in the morning at 3 a. m., showing the forty-horse teams Columbus on his return to Barcelona, and hundreds of other obbred horses are seen at one time, all enhorse teams Columbus on his return to Barcelona, and hundreds of other ob-

The above is a good picture of the popular composer and director, T. B. Brooke, the man who has worked his way up to the very top of the heap of musicians and composers in America, and this he has accompilished in a very few years. Mr. Brooke is a thorough American in every sense and has advanced ideas in the manner of conducting a band and arranging music. He is the director of the Chicago Marine Band, which comes to Seibert's Garden next Sunday afternoon and night, and it is an undisputed fact that his is the finest musical organization in this country.

noon and night, and it is an unasputed fact that his is the finest musical organization in this country.

The seats for the two concerts were put on sale at House's music store yesterday and last night the diagram of the large and newly constructed 'pavillion, was pretty well marked up. It costs much to get the band here for these two concerts, and the Wheeling public as well as the citizens of other towns within a radius of 100 miles will take advantage of the rare opportunity to hear the band that won so much praise at the world's fair, the Nashville exposition. New Orleans, and the Pitusburgh exposition. All the railroads entering the city have advertised cheap excursions for Sunday and thousands of visitors will no doubt visit Selbert's on that day. Miss Sibyl Sammis, the wonderful prima donna soprano will positively appear at both concerts. mis, the wonderful prima donna soprato will positively appear at both concerts. The afternoon concert will begin at 2:35 o'clock and at night at 8:30. The admis-sion has been placed at 25 cents, and those attending the afternoon concert, may remain for the evening without ex-tra charge.

An Array of deauty.

The pictures of the young ladies who are to take part in the "Dream of Fair Women" had taken at Giffins Studio, present some of the finest groups that have been before the eyes of the public. The pictures will be placed in the prominent stores and it is useless to say that they will attract great attention. Already enough tickets have been sold to fill the Carroll Club Auditorium, and those who wish tickets reserved should call at the club house early Monday morning.

be successful in these days of vaudeville and comedy, a farce comedy must possess features of unusual origin-ality. The public no longer tolerate old ideas and time-worn methods. In the production of a "Paper City," at the Grand, beginning to-night, the key note of everything is originality. The play has a plot, and a very laughable one; it is crowded with new situations one; It is crowded with new altuations and comical complications. The scenes are laid at Peaceville, on the Hudson, a new town in the west, and the interior of a river steamer. Miss Eloise Williard is a clever and winsome little lady, and a superb singer. Murphy and Moore, two clever comedians, with parts fitted to them by the author, and a big company of metropolitan comedians supporting the lively trio. Novelties in vaudeville are promised. The singing of Miss Wilfard, and musical specialties by Murphy and Moore are prominent in the oilo.

IN THE OIL FIELDS,

time what the outcome of events in the Etk Fork territory will be. During the past couple of weeks there has been several dry holes drilled in this field and from the locations of the most of them. it looks as though the pool was defined it looks as though the pool was defined on three sides at least, and possibly on the fourth. There is only one thing that will save the west side of the pool and that is the Hill Oil Company's well on the Hill farm a report of which has been printed in these columns before. This well, when drilled in, showed up very nicely and there was every indication that it would make a good producer, but while the six and one-fourth inch casing was being put in a couple of days ago, it was dropped and now they have a fishing job and there is no telling whether they will be able to get the casing in shape again or not. The well has shown up all right so far and gave every indication of making nolless than two hundred barrels a day. If the well should continue to show up as well after it has been fixed up and drilled deeper, it will open a large amount of territory in that section of the country. It may be that after this well has been drilled deeper it will show up fetter and that one of the best wells in the field has been drilled in. This direction and well is the only salvation for the Elk Fork pool at this time despite the fact that quite a number of writers claim that the Glenn well to the east, will be an extension of the pool. The Glenn well is only, a short distance from the original wells in the pool, which were large ones and it is only good for about seventy-five barrels à day, and a well dhilled still farther east of it would in all probability, be a dry hole, even in case it was only a couple of hundred feet away from the first well.

A sale of some importance was reported in the field yesterday morning, in which quite a nice piece of property changed hands. Cutler & Henderson and C. F. Hosford purchased the eight interest of J. W. Childers in the Argus Oil Company, for $12.000. The purchase includes a lease on the fifty-five activate which this company is operating, on which there are three producing wells with a production of 1,200 barrels a day; and on which there are at the present tipue three drilling well on three sides at least, and possibly on the fourth. There is only one thing is in the Elik Fork heid and the purchasers did not pay too much money for it.

Henry & McDonald have put the six and one-fourth inch casing in their No 9 on the John Pipes farm, and it should reach the sand the latter part of this week or the first of next. This well is located along the line between the Pipes and the Fairel farms and will probably come in, a large producer. Their No. 13 on the same farm is drilling at about three hundred feet.

The Argus Oil Company's No. 5 on the Snider farm, fifty-five acresai Elk Fork should reach the sand not later than Saturday. The six and one-fourth inch casing was put in the well yesterday, and with no bad luck it should be in by that time. Their No. 7 on the same farm commenced spudding and the rig for No. 6 is being rigged up and spudding will be commenced the latter part of the week.

Boyd Bros. & Malarkey shot their No. 2 on the Snider thirty acres yesterday, and after the well had been cleaned out this morning it started off at sixty barrels an hour. This is the best result that has been obtained from the use of slycerine in this section for some time. The well was not making much more than one hundred barrels before it was shot and the owners took a chance of spoiling it or making it of some account.

The company which drilled what is

The company which drilled what is known as the Sawdust well, have made another location on the same tract and have commenced building the rig for the well. Their first venture on this tract was a miserable fillure.

The South Penn Oil Company has made a location and are drilling another well on the Boreman & Strouse tract.

Twenty-three persons died on her from the time she anything to do with net. Then, three she left New Orleans until she anchored at Pittsburgh. From her the fever was taken to Gallipolis, Ohio, where out of 51 persons attacked, 31 ded. When the Porter landed three miles below Gallipolis on the morning of August 19, the engineers refused to remain any longer at their post of duty. A strong guard was placed over the tug and the barges to prevent any one from landing from her. There were ten cases of fever abroad at the time, three of them very ill. Among the number Captain John Bickerstaff, Engineer Charles De Greiman, of Pittsburgh, and William Koehler, from Pomeroy, had previously died. Dr. Carr came out and told the father that the young man was not inside.

"He must be there somewhere," replied the man, "for I heard him groan just now." Dr. Carr replenished his light and re-entered, and, after a careful search, found what he thought at first was a negro, covered with black and filthy clothing, in a dirty corner, behind the cook stove. It was the wretched, abandoned and dying youth, covered with filth, who in his delirium and seach for water, had crawled all finally, exhausted, sank down in a corvover the dirty floors of the cabin and ner to die.
